New READING BOOK for Schools.

THE MONITORIAL READER, or a Monitor to Youth, holding up to their view Models whereby to form their own Characters. By DANIEL ADAMS, Author of Adams's New Arithmetic.

—EXTRACTS FROM THE PREFACE.

"THE MONITORIAL READER possesses distinctive traits. The object is to supply what is believed to be the great desideratum in our schools—a series of exercises relating to what concerns the practical matters of life—truth, integrity, honesty, industry, temperance, forethought, frugality, patient endurance of adversity, and whatever else tends to form and fix the character of youth.

We wish to impress it on the minds of those, into whose hands these exercises shall come, now, in this seed-time of life, what is here so abundantly inculcated, that 'Every man is emphatically the architect of his own fortune;' that with themselves it lies whether they shall ever be any thing or nothing; that a moneied capital to begin with does not weigh a whit in the balance for or against them—that, coming into life with health, strength, capacity for labor, good education, a useful and respectable trade, habits of industry, sobriety, punctuality, frugality, and, above all, with a GOOD AND UNSULLIED CHARACTER, they have the best of all capital—a moral capital—the noblest of all power—moral power—and the most certain means of honest and honorable accumulation and fortune, and may be sure, under circumstances ordinarily propitious, to rise to that competency of influence, respect, and general confidence, and that honorable measure of wealth and independence, which should fully satisfy a reasonable and virtuous ambition."

EXTRACTS FROM RECOMMENDATIONS.

The influence will all be found on the side of virtue, morality and religion. Occasional comments are given. Difficult or unusual words are defined. Prose and poetry are suitably intermingled. It is hardly to be imagined that this book should fail of popularity. It certainly would not, had it not so many competitors that have got the start of it in the race. As it is, its mettle is such as to give it fair promise of ultimate success in the contest. Boston Recorder.

Dr. Adams: Having examined to some extent your Monitorial Reader, I am pleased with its plan, its object, and the manner in which it has been executed. It seems adapted to the intellectual and moral improvement of those for whose use it was designed. I trust it will prove to be what its author fondly anticipates.

(Rev.) Z. S. BARSTOW, Keene.

It is just such a book as our New England boys and girls will be glad to see, for it inculcates in a pleasing manner, industry, frugality, truth, honesty, temperance, peace, kindness, fortitude, and a cheerful piety. The Vocabulary, at the end, and the arrangement for defining words, will add to its value in the hands of a judicious teacher.

(Rev.) ABIEL A. LIVERMORE, Keene.

We have also recommendations from a number of individuals and periodicals, among which are D. Crosby, Preceptor of the High School Nashua; J. Newton Brown, Professor of Theology at New Hampton. It is also adopted by the Associations of School Teachers in Cheshire and Hillsboro' counties, and by the School Committee of Concord.

About 3000 copies have been published, and mostly disposed of.

Published and for sale by ROBY, KIMBALL & MERRILL, North End, Main Street, Concord, N. H. For sale by the Booksellers in Portland, Hallowell, Augusta, Bangor, Waterville, Gardiner, Belfast and Eastport, Me.

STATE OF MAINE.

LAND OFFICE,
Bangor, Oct. 3, 1841.

THE undersigned hereby gives public notice that the settling land in the following described Townships, which has been surveyed into settling lots, and belonging to the State, is now in the market for sale and settlement, to wit:

| | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Township | No. 4, | Range 5, | West from the | East line of the State |
| " | No. 5, | " 6, | " | " |
| " | No. 6, | " 5, | " | " |
| " | No. 8, | " 5, | " | " |
| " | No. 9, | " 4, | " | " |
| " | No. 9, | " 6, | " | " |
| " | No. 10, | " 5, | " | " |
| " | No. 11, | " 5, | " | " |
| " | No. 11, | " 6, | " | " |
| " | No. 12, | " 3, | " | " |
| " | No. 12, | " 5, | " | " |
| " | No. 15, | " 4, | " | " |
| " | Letter F, | " 2, | " | " |
| " | Letter H, | " 2, | " | " |
| " | Letter D, | " 1, | " | " |

The prices for land in these Townships will vary according to the situation and quality of the lots, not less however than fifty cents, and probably not exceeding one dollar per acre.

The land will be sold upon a credit of four yearly payments, with interest, the three first payments to be expended in labor on the roads in the Township where the land sold is situated, under the direction of the Land Agent, and the last payment to be in cash. Each purchaser will be required by the terms of his deed, within said four years to build a house on his lot, and to clear in a proper manner fifteen acres, ten or more of which shall be laid down to grass.

Whenever twenty, or a less number of persons shall give a satisfactory bond to the Land Agent that they will within three years erect a substantial Saw and Grist Mill in any Township lotted for settlers, having no mills in said Township, each of said persons will be entitled to a deed of one lot of land, subject to the performance of the settling duties above mentioned, and the Company will be entitled to a deed of the mill lot.

Not more than four lots will be sold to any one person in any township or tract.

The Aroostook Road has been completed this year, to the Aroostook River, and as that river is navigable for boats, a good communication is now opened to the settler for an easy access to each of the above mentioned Townships.

Saw and Grist Mills have been erected and are now in operation in Township Letter F, Range 2, No. 9, Range 4, and No. 11, Range 5; and contracts have been made for the erection of Mills, the ensuing year, in Township No. 9, Range 6, No. 11, Range 6, and in Letter D, Range 1.

There has been a steady demand for settling land through the season, and more lots have been sold than in any former year. As the United States have recently established a post near the mouth of the Aroostook, and another at the mouth of Fish River, and have sent a Company of soldiers to each, new roads will undoubtedly be soon opened through this section of the State, mail routes established, new markets opened for produce, and the settler will feel additional security from any border difficulty.

With the known fertility of the soil, the advantage of good roads and mills, and the rapid settlement of this part of the State, it is believed that a most favorable opportunity is now offered to young men who wish to become farmers, to secure themselves good locations, where in a few years, with industry and economy, they cannot fail to secure to themselves an honorable competency.

ELIJAH L. HAMLIN,
Land Agent of Maine.

☞ The following newspapers are requested to publish the above notice weekly, for two months, and forward their bills to the Land Office for payment. Calais Advertiser, Waldo Signal, Piscataquis Herald, People's Press, Kennebec Journal, Portland Advertiser, Oxford Democrat, York County Herald, Franklin Register, Lincoln Telegraph, New Hampshire Statesman and State Journal, Atlas, Boston.

WHEREAS, Ansel W. Perkins, of Cold Stream Settlement, (now Enfield,) in the county of Penobscot, by his mortgage deed dated the first day of July, 1825, and recorded in the Penobscot Registry for Deeds, book 13, page 47, conveyed to the undersigned a certain tract or parcel of land situated in Enfield, in the county aforesaid, fronting on Cold Stream Pond, being lot numbered one, containing ninety-five and an half acres according to R. B. Tarbox's survey, and is more particularly described in said deed, reference to which may be had. Mechanics' State Convention. Its character and objects. The insult offered to it thrown back into the teeth of its Author.

It is well known to the public that the Mechanics of this State have recently held a Convention by delegates at Augusta. The number in attendance was over one hundred, and principally delegates from the several Mechanic Associations in the State. A company of men as respectable and worthy, as moral and intelligent, we venture to say, as generally occupy the seats in the Representatives' hall, where the Convention was held. They met for the purpose of claiming for man the right to improve and use his mental as well as his physical powers. To give validity and power to this abstract truth, so precious and so important to man, they wished to arouse the public mind to its existence, and to suggest from the best light and experience of all, the surest methods to be taken by practical toiling men to accomplish it. The objects of the Convention were not partial, for the advancement of a party, or temporary, for no influence beyond the present. The best good of man and of society, it was thought, might be promoted by laying the foundation for the mental and moral elevation of the many, the hard toiling many that in other countries are doomed to ignorance, poverty and distress. It was thought expedient to take the sublime idea that the germs of mental power are the gift of God to every rational being, which it is his right and duty to cultivate and develope, and place it prominently before the public mind until each laborer in the land should feel, that he, amidst all his labors, had a mission in the world of mind, which his conscience and his love of happiness forbid his neglecting.

A call for the Convention was published in every paper in the State. Where associations were formed, delegates were chosen, and, also, in a few towns where Mechanics are unitedly not in harmony and active to the movements of the age.

From no quarter came doubts of success or the faintest whisper of opposition. None, none steeped in selfishness or lost to sympathy for his fellow, could wish any thing but success to the enterprise. The Convention assembled, the members about equally divided, politically, the proceedings were signally marked with harmony and good feeling, and no evil passed to mar the happiness of the occasion.

Yet the editor of the Bangor "Democrat" in the plenitude of his own self sufficiency, has taken occasion to give a partial account of the Convention, and sneeringly speaks of the numbers in attendance as (*) 120 delegates duly returned from 16 towns. 15 from Penobscot and all from Bangor. He further undertakes to give the impression that the Convention attempted to make a nuisance of Gov. Kent, and thus made him an offenders member of the Convention.

The Governor was at Augusta attending a session of the Executive Council in the State House, where the Convention was held, and as any man in like circumstances would have done, took a seat in the Hall to listen to a public address. At the next session of the Convention a Portland man, and opposed to the Governor in politics, introduced a resolve inviting him to attend the sessions of the Convention as much of the time as would suit his convenience. A very general desire was afterwards expressed to have him address the Convention. A resolution to that effect was passed, and the Convention was highly gratified with his remarks. And for this the members of the Convention are spoken of as having violated the principles of common sense, by attempting to manufacture the Governor into a mechanic. But what else, after all, could be expected of a man who, himself being a mechanic, should live for years in this city, where there is a good Mechanic Association for mutual improvement, and never become a member of it. Self satisfied in his own super or greatness, scorning to fellowship with those who acknowledge the need of improvement. Worthy work, and appropriate, that of slandering a Convention of mechanics, for a man who has no other care or sympathy for them than to catch their votes. All movements to extend social freedom and personal elevation, when not called through and for the benefit of his political party, to which he makes all things bend, have no favor with him. And that this movement of the mechanics of Maine should be entirely inoperative, the editor of the "Democrat" attempts to misrepresent it, and make it appear farcical. We hope for the honor of the public press in Maine that such baseness is not possessed and will not be practiced by others.

☞ It should be recollected by the mechanics generally in the State, that the recent Convention at Augusta recommended the establishment of Associations for mental and moral improvement in every village in Maine. This is a favorable season of the year for the business, and we hope to see a general movement of the kind without delay. Frequent meetings, with lectures, debates, and select reading, will be found highly advantageous for improvement, and for extending a happy social influence among artizans and their families.

☞ S. W. Cole, late editor of the Yankee Farmer, has just started a monthly quarto paper called the FARMER'S JOURNAL AND MAGAZINE OF THE USEFUL ARTS at the low price of fifty cents a year. It will be a valuable paper, we are satisfied, from the first number and the well known ability of its editor in agricultural matters.

☞ Cold weather is rapidly approaching and vegetables should be taken from the gardens and fields, the wood pile secured, cellars banked up. Young men should purchase books to read in the long evenings. Bachelors should get married. Washington ans should lecture, mechanics families should be more social, mental improvement become the order of the day, and everybody get ready for a season of Thanksgiving.

☞ A large number of vessels are in our harbor waiting for lumber which can only be got to market in small quantities, on account of the drought. If we could have, immediately, a smart freshet, this would be one of the best seasons for business, Bangor ever experienced. A continuance of the drought for a week or two, will be felt very seriously.

☞ The Portland Advertiser has paid his quietus to a contemptible attempt to impose upon the world. We are well pleased to be complimented on that any day, for we agree with him who said

"The Devil was sick,
The Devil a monk would be;
The Devil was well,
The Devil a monk he was still."

☞ We learn by the Montreal Herald that the wooden Bridge on the Lachine Rail Road, at Lachine, was destroyed on fire, it having been first thickly overlaid with turpentine by some reckless scoundrels. It will take it is said, $1,000 to repair the damage.

☞ The Washington Madisonian has revealed its character recently in such a manner as to place it below contempt as an opponent or friend of the Democratic-Whig Party.

☞ The committee of the city council on city property, have just completed a brick charnel house, at Mount Hope, in place of the wood now decayed.

☞ We are requested to give notice that the Rev. John Weiss of Newport, R. I. will preach at St. Johns (Episcopal) Church to morrow.

☞ "Alphonzo" should forward a copy of the work he mentions that we may decide upon his request.

A Compliment.

The "Old Dominion", edited by Thos. Ritchie, the concentrated essence of high toned democracy, and with the practical support of Van Buren, thus pleasantly compliments the contrast between theory and practice, in a late number, in an article on the American Press, addressed to the "Eastern Argus" and Eastern Democrat in the following manner:

First and foremost upon the list stands the Portland Argus, a flaming advocate of democracy, as it doubtless believes, perhaps honestly, but in whose columns no democratic principle ever finds admittance. Its whole argument previous to the late election was "Kent's federalism", "Kent's demagoguism", Kent's this, and Kent's that. No thrilling essays on Equal Rights, no eloquent appeals to the pride of sovereignty, no profound arguments to show in what respect Democracy was preferable to Federalism, further than that John Fairfield was a better man than Edward Kent. It was altogether a contest between two men, trembling for their office. We strike that paper from our exchange list with scorn and contempt. The Eastern Democrat is of the same kidney, and must share the same fate.

United States Bank.

The London Morning Herald, referring to the United States Bank, says the following.

"The final declaration of the insolvency of this mighty institution ought not to be passed over in silence. The direct results of the assignment of all its remaining property to trustees for the liquidation of its debts, have consummated its now irretrievable bankruptcy, a bankruptcy more prodigious, it may be said, than ever the world witnessed, for it is the bankruptcy of a magnificent establishment which started with a capital of forty five millions of dollars, and the total is the wreck that it may be doubted if a single cent, even after the indispensable payment of debts, will be realized for division among the shareholders. The famous Mississippi association of Law in France, or the South Sea Bubble in this country, were not, on their fearful explosion, to be compared with this gigantic failure.

The English papers state that many individuals who had made investments in the stock of the Bank, did so under the belief that the Government of the United States would eventually for them. This to their cost has proved an unfortunate delusion. One thing is certain, history does not record an instance in any country of so stupendous and disastrous a bankruptcy as that of the United States Bank, and it will be long, very long before the circumstances will cease to operate prejudicially abroad, both upon the character and credit of this country.

☞ The opposition papers have published a story, that Mr Secretary Ewing allowed his son over forty thousand dollars for negotiating a loan of one million and a half dollars. The Portland Advertiser has the authority to contradict the statement in toto. The truth is, that Mr Ewing was paid one-twelfth of one per cent for effecting the loan, which gives him the astonishing sum of $416, 66 cts for his services. By such consummate knavery, have the locos carried the elections in many sections.

Within the last fortnight about sixty thousand bushels of potatoes (scarce as the crop was) have been purchased by vessels lying at the wharves of this town and Hallowell, to be carried to eastern and western markets. The average price has been two shillings per bushel. At this rate, the whole amount of cash distributed among our farmers near by, for the single article of potatoes is twenty thousand dollars. This is but a small item in the potato trade of Maine. Gospel Banner.

I saw on Saturday, a perfect little steam engine of a child two year old power, to which a simple apparatus is fitted by the action of the steam engine, upon which a cradle containing an infant was rocked to and fro with infinitely more regularity than the toe of the most experienced nurse could accomplish. Correspondent of the Dublin Monitor.

A young gentleman from the Auburn Theological Seminary, on his way last week to take license to preach, before Buffalo Presbytery, at its late session at Westfield, had his carpet bag stolen containing a bundle of sermons in manuscript.

I Don't Like to See

A dirty shirt covered with a clean dickey, a working man, who has two hats, wearing the best every day; the windows patched with paper, rags, or turf, a sweep or baker passing through the crowd, a woman's boot-lace dangling loose, orange peels thrown on the footpath, an orphan girl tempted to walk the streets for no good purpose, good meat thrown to the dogs, a workhouse funeral nearly without attendants, a rich man's funeral blocking up the streets, a woman beating her child because it had nearly got run over, a country overseer putting out a poor woman by the shoulders, two men fighting a prize battle on Sunday afternoon, with a large attendance of men and women, a parson, with a stentorian lungs, holding forth to three individuals, a man, after breaking a square of glass in a window, running away to escape detection, a child crying for hours together in a cradle, a man scolded with till until his legs are obliged to be tied up, a bedroom crowded full of hair, a servant waiting at the table with dirty hands, a woman slipping in at the back door of a public house, with a bottle and jug, at a time, a justice fining persons for getting drunk, who frequently gets drunk himself, a beggar exhibiting his wounds and deformities on the road side, an old man of seventy and a young girl of seventeen going to church to get married, a drunken coachman driving his horses at full gallop, a man with a new hat, clothes long to be mothed, a man with clothes without covering, a coach horse with bleeding shoulders, a poor man's house, who gets relief from the parish, children's shoes worn out and stockings out at the heel, an umbrella on a windy day with two broken bones, a shop window dirty, a widow's bed and chair of a poor widow to the sheriff, to sell for rent, a poor ragged wife seeking her husband at twelve on Saturday night, a man exceedingly drunk and noisy at a temperance meeting, a lady coming out of a Tom and Jerry with a big mouth. Educational Magazine.

Going into Business too Young.

It has been the wisdom of experienced minds that a young man makes a great mistake by entering business for himself too young. Of the number who begin thus how few succeed! They launched upon the untraversed sea, without a compass, a rudder or oar, and they are seen tossed about at the mercy of every contending billow, or finally dashed in ruin upon some rugged peak.

To face the world, you must know the world. The youth who pounces on a single bound into the arena of commercial contention and competition, finds himself out hot by old marksmen in the exciting contest. He may bet on the issue and with each loss be only the more excited by laying down his stakes, but he soon dies forlorn, game to the practised artist.

Proper ambition should not be checked. But let the youthful born of the world enter the world he takes to be of the world. Get its wisdom, say its worldly wisdom, for it is necessary to carry you successfully over the ocean of adventure.

More young men are ruined by rushing too precipitately into business, getting involved in debt, and finally breaking down under the load, than in any other way. They are apt to go too fast for their prospects, and their prospects go too fast for them. They should be enterprising, but not fool hardy. They should aspire, but not ascend at once to the clouds for all aerial castles are apt to float as mere "castles in the air".

Dr Jeffreys, of Liverpool has lately brought into use a plant, called Matico, the Piper angustifolium, as a styptic. It is much used in South America and Brazil, to stop the hemorrhage from small vessels, leech bites or incised wounds. It may be applied in leaf or in fine powder. It is said also to be taken internally for the same purpose in form of infusion, in the proportions of about half an ounce to a pint of boiling water. In Peru the plant is called Moho Moho, and is extensively used for the same purposes as cubebs, which this pepper much resembles in smell.

Tit for Tat.

A drunkard flew satisfied to a distillery in Kentucky, a short time since. An exchange paper says that this is perfectly fair, for the distillery must satisfy him and then he satisfies the distillery.

A Yankee has invented a plaster so strong that it draws prizes in lotteries, likewise the most beautiful landscape views, also the sign to a church, peradventure coming from the barrel.

Prof Gruithuisen, of Munich, announces that he has ascertained the exact period of the Sun's sidereal revolution on its axis, to be 25 days 14 hours 48 minutes and 5 seconds, and its synodical rotation, 27 days 13 hours 17 minutes and 10 seconds.

Mr Harris has submitted to the British Association an improved Barometer by which variations of the ten thousandth part of an inch can be read off with perfect accuracy.

"That's what I call a finished sermon," remarked a man as he was coming out of church. "Yes, finished at last," replied his neighbor, "though I began to think it never would be."

The editor of the Hartford Times has been presented with an apple 16 inches in circumference and weighing over a pound.

The Churches of our Land.

BY MISS MARY ANNE BRUNE.

Time's ever rolling stream is fleeting
By strand the beautiful isles
They lave in their where proud rivers sweep,
And in the lone deep
All the sing of earth's fairy fane
Wherever they may stand
Within sight of rich and poor,
The Churches of our Land.

Ye fonts of Italian palaces
Ye cathedrals where
Of illusions where Persian sat so
Dwelt in further grove wood towers
Ye temples shall commend
God's temples shall commend
While knee shall bend, and prayer ascend,
Fair churches of our Land.

Oh! pleasant are the peaceful bells
Jovial calls to joy home
Call to prayer from hills and dells,
With their melodious chime,
And glorious is the sacred sabbath
Shall [illegible]
While [illegible] proudly float
Through the churches of our Land.

Talk not of England's "wooden walls"
Hath Britain strong gifts in here
Here true around the spirit falls
Soul to soul doubt and fear
Here true strength, a loving should power,
Revive each heart and hand
Must be less prove those who best love
The Churches of our Land.

They stand the guardians of the faith
For which our fathers died,
God keep those temples still from scathe,
Our blessing and our pride!
Our energies, our deeds, our prayers,
All these should they command
That never fade may lay them low,
The Churches of our Land.

Destructive Fire at Saccarappa.

The Portland Advertiser states that on Thursday morning (28th) a destructive fire occurred at Saccarappa. It was first discovered at about 3 o'clock in the Bog Machine shop owned and occupied by Col Cutter. From thence it was communicated to Cutter's Hall, the Cabinet maker's shop of Messrs B. & S. Foss, the Wheelright shop of A. Cutter, a two story dwelling house occupied by a number of families, and also to the Blacksmith's Shop of Mr Joseph Babb, all of which were totally consumed.

☞ The Salem Register publishes a correspondence between Isaac Chase, U. S. Consul at Cape Town, and Admiral King, commander of the naval forces on the coast of Africa, relating to the ill-treatment which Capt Webb, of the Salem brig Cherokee, received, not long since, from a British cruiser. Admiral King's letter breathes a proper spirit, and is as follows:

H. B. M. S. Southampton,
Simons Bay, 23d March, 1841.

Sir, I have had the honor to receive to day your letter of the 20th inst, with its enclosure, reporting the unpleasant conduct of an officer belonging to her Majesty's brig Curlew, while boarding and examining the brig "Cherokee", under the flag of the United States, and I feel extremely glad that any officer under my order should have acted in the manner complained of by Mr Webb. A strict investigation of the matter shall be made on the earliest opportunity, and should I find the complaint established, I shall certainly inflict a severe reproof upon the offender, my instructions to the squadron on assuming this command being, that every proper consideration and courtesy should be observed in performing the unpleasant duty of boarding the merchant vessels of friendly nations, and especially those of the United States.

It is gratifying for me to observe the temperate language used by Mr Webb in his representation, and the friendly consideration you have expressed for Lieut Ross, while bringing the subject under notice.

I have the honor to be, sir,
Your most obedt humble servant,
[Signed] E. D. KING
Rear Admiral and Commander in Chief.

To Isaac Chase, Esq, Consul for the United States, Cape of Good Hope.

From Florida.

A friend has favored us with the following extracts from a private letter received by the Green Church, dated

Ex. Assessint, Oct 17th, 1841.

As soon as the Gaston arrives I am to go South, and this winter we expect to have quite a vigorous campaign after that stubborn dog, Sam Jones, Esq. He is represented to be in a sort of mush and mud kind of a country, where he may retreat to land or water, as the case should be.

Two Companies of the 3d Artillery are ordered to Fort Pierce, from which place we may probably make a push towards Okeechobee, which is a large lake up through the Everglades and streams which empty on the western side. It is stated that Sam Jones, Recados Semanotes, has about two thousand people and two hundred and fifty warriors. This is the estimate of negroes and Indians who have no correct idea of numbers. It is probable that in such a hard expedition as this our Regiment may operate in companies, in that case the route will be more pleasant than any that we are delighted at the chance of doing something. I hope shortly to be in the big swamp where Sam Jones is ensconced. I know the whole beaded scamp, having seen him frequently at Fort Lauderdale, in 1839, and assure you that if he comes within one hundred yards of my rifle, he is Sam Jones defunct. Tri-Weekly Tribune.

The brig Lawrence, Copeland, from Tampa Bay, Florida, arrived yesterday, bringing a considerable number of Indians, destined for the Indian Reservation, West of Arkansas. N. O. Pic. Oct 17.

"On the 1st of October, a hundred persons of various trades, were on their way to Havre, where they were to embark in the ship Corinne for Brazil to found a colony upon the "phalanx system". A second contingent of workmen still more numerous, was expected to take place in a few months.

It is also mentioned that the Abbey of Cluny with its estate, was about to be purchased by Mr Young, for the purpose of establishing a social community according to the system of Charles Fourrier. The journal then remarks that "it is well that this utopian idea is about to be put to the test, that experience may show what should be thought of it."

BALSOM OF LIVERWORT

DR TAYLOR'S BALSOM of LIVERWORT has been used successfully for eight years in the Cure of these Diseases ☞ Remember! the original and genuine is made ONLY at 375 Bowery, New York. ALL others are spurious and unauthorized

CONSUMPTION & LIVER COMPLAINT—As a general remedy for these diseases, I am fully satisfied from long experience, there is no medicine equal to Dr Taylor's Balsom of Liverwort. Being purely vegetable it can be used with the utmost safety by all persons in every condition It cleanses the lungs by expectoration relieves difficult breathing and heals the chest There can be no question but this medicine is a certain cure for chronic coughs and colds I have used it for four years in my practice, and always with success—

A F RODGERS, M D

☞ SPITTING OF BLOOD This disease consists of a discharge of blood often frothy, from the mouth, brought up with walking and coughing and is usually accompanied with difficulty of breathing and some pain in the chest Sometimes it is preceded by an oppression at the chest, a dry tickling cough and slight shooting pains This disease is always more or less dangerous The great danger is that these symptoms may terminate in consumption, and immediate remedies can alone save this end But Dr Taylor's Balsom of Liverwort is a sure remedy, and to shew its unparalleled success, certificates of cures from 421 citizens and many physicians will be published in a few days

☞ NERVOUS DISEASES AND WEAKNESS Dr Taylor's Balsom of Liverwort made at 375 Bowery, is assuredly an excellent remedy for these diseases My wife has been more or less ill for ten years She was extremely nervous and at times so weak that she could not attend to her domestic duties By the use of this medicine her strength is wholly restored, and she is as healthy as I can wish her to be My address is at Dr Taylor's office

CURE OF CONSUMPTION Mrs Martin a worthy member of my congregation was taken ill some time since with a cold pain in the breast and some difficulty of breathing and in a few days thereafter she had a violent cough and violent pain in the sides, which no medicine would relieve She continued in this way for a long time under the medical care of Dr Rea but finally became consumptive, and was evidently near the end of her earthly sufferings when her brother persuaded her to try Dr. Taylor's Balsam of Liverwort When she commenced this medicine it did not seem to agree with her for a few days but by lessening the dose she found it answered admirably it relieved her cough and her difficulty of breathing instanter, and we had the pleasure of witnessing her rapid recovery to health.

TO THE LADIES.
INTELLECTUAL DEVELOPEMENTS AND PERSONAL BEAUTY CONSIDERED IN CONNECTION WITH DOCT FELIX GOURAUD'S POUDRES SUBTILES

The sculptor whose study is to imitate the exquisite workmanship of nature pourtrays in his model of the human form a broad and elevated forehead This developement is not only consonant with but sometimes necessary to the possession of a high order of mental faculty If a fine forehead is a mark of intellect it is no less an essential element of personal beauty, and it is of importance to those and there are many such possessed of this prominent feature though obscured by the encroachments of a too luxurious growth of hair to remove the portion of an excrescence which tends in their case only to deform. This can be done safely speedily effectually and, if used in accordance with directions, without the least inconvenience by Dr Felix Gouraud's Depilatory Powders The furze of the lip when annoying or the short hair on the back of a ladies' neck, when too apparent the hair of a mole or the beard, when big upon the cheek may all be removed and eventually the roots destroyed, by the use of this preparation

BALDNESS.
A BEAUTIFUL HEAD OF HAIR

Is the grandest ornament belonging to the human frame How strangely the loss of it changes the countenance, and prematurely brings on the appearance of old age, which causes many to regret being uncovered and sometimes even shun society to avoid the jests and sneers of their acquaintance, the remainder of their lives is consequently spent in retirement In short not even the loss of property fills the generous thinking youth with that heavy sinking gloom as does the loss of his hair To avert all these unpleasant circumstances, OLDRIDGE'S BALM OF COLUMBIA stops the hair from falling off on the first application and a few bottles restores it again It likewise produces eyebrows and whiskers, prevents the hair from turning gray makes it curl beautifully and frees it from scurf Numerous certificates of the first respectability in support of the virtues of Oldridge's Balm are shown by the proprietors

Read the following

ROBERT WHARTON, Esq late Mayor of Philadelphia has certified as may be seen below to the high character of the following gentlemen

The undersigned do hereby certify that we have used the Balm of Columbia discovered by J Oldridge and have found it highly serviceable not only as a preventive against the falling off of hair but also a certain restorative
